Humane society gets bum rap

For quite some time now the Berkeley-East Bay Humane Society, serving Alameda and Contra Costa counties, has been subject to numerous attacks ranging from cruelty to animals to fiscal mismanagement. We have found the allegations to be without substance in fact, but rather the fantasies of a small number of people who find it difficult to be as humane to their fellow members as they are to the animals.

For example, the society had publicly entered into a contract to allow veterinary students from Washington State University to engage in treatment of animals at the shelter. Public announcements were made about the contract with Washington State and plans were being discussed for a West Coast veterinary center. A few members of the board were unaware of the planned program and contract, and when they found out about it they charged that the entire matter had been done in secret — conjuring visions of Dr. Frankenstein-type experiments on helpless little sick animals. Nothing could have been further from the truth, but the few malcontents continued their distorted campaign and succeeded in killing the program. In fact, the plan was a good idea and the petty action of the few has done a disservice to the society and to animal care in the area.

Another example of half-truths being used against the society is the allegation that "donations" required of those adopting animals is much too high. In fact, $15 is asked for cats and $20 for dogs. This covers little more than a distemper shot and a physical examination.

We could list many more of the abuses that a few people have seen fit to heap on the society. However, no point would be served. We are convinced that there is little substance to any of the allegations made. What we find significant is the recent election in which those members of the society leading the campaign against the board, lost the board election by more than three to one. The election was handled by an El Cerrito C.P.A. as it was anticipated that some would claim the election was rigged. The results of the election were handled impartially by the C.P.A. and the disgruntled few lost in a landslide. Yet, continuing their dishonest tactics, they have claimed that the election solved nothing.

The humane society is a private non-profit organization that has served the area well for years. It has been wrongfully attacked. We urge our readers to ignore the continued carping of those who lost and to support the work of the society. For our own part, we do not intend to be used any further by those who seek to discredit and thereby destroy the society.

Council "cuts bait" on Pierce street and board

Koepke says his actions were kosher

ALBANY — The held over items from the City Council meeting of June 11 provided the fireworks at the Council meeting Monday night.

The issue that allegations City Administrator William E. Haden and Fire Chief Mike Koepke had "meddled" in the actions of the Civil Service Board surfaced when Chief Koepke asked for a public apology from Vice-Mayor Lewis M. Howell on the reports in the papers that there had been changes in the recent scores of applicants for the positions of Assistant Fire Chief and Fire Captain. The issue was the raising of the scores of the seven applicants who took the test for Fire Captain from failing grades to passing grades by the elimination of 34 questions and the re-grading of the tests to enable passing grades being granted to five of the men who took the test. Vice Mayor Howell charged the integrity of the department was in jeopardy.

Harrington challenges recall vote

By FRED RUBY

ALBANY — Clifford Harrington, who was recalled from the Board of Directors of the Gateview McKinley Towers Neighborhood Council on May 31, has challenged the legitimacy of the recall vote.

In a June 8 letter to the Board, Harrington claimed that the Board's use of a "listed proxy" form to secure a quorum in the recall meeting was "legally invalid. I value my place on the Board very highly," Harrington stated. "Until the Board can show that I have been properly recalled, I must take the position that I am still a member of the Board."

Localite named as suspect

By DAVE CHEIT

BERKELEY — The accused assailant of lawyer Fay Stender was scheduled to return to court here today, with security precautions expected to be stricter than ever in the wake of Monday's courtroom brawl.

One spectator was arrested and two sheriff's deputies were injured in the sudden melee that broke out when bailiffs tried to lead Edward Glenn Brooks and five co-defendants — all chained together by the wrists — back to a holding cell after their arraignment hearing in Berkeley - Albany Municipal Court.

The six all face numerous charges in connection with last Thursday's robbery of a south Berkeley bank, and Brooks alone is charged with attempted murder in the May 28 shooting of Ms. Stender. The detective work leading to his apprehension was detailed by police in a rare press conference.

Corps to talk about Marina tomorrow eve

ALBANY — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is sponsoring a public workshop on the proposed City of Albany Marina tomorrow night at the Albany City Council Chambers, 1000 San Pablo Avenue. The time of the meeting is 7:30 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to present the preliminary results of the Corps' studies concerning the Marina project, and to encourage interested persons to express their views.

Albany residents are invited to participate in the workshop, and also to submit written comments to the Corps' District Office, at 211 Main Street, San Francisco, Ca., 94105.

The Corps currently is circulating the "Environmental Working Paper, Albany Marina," a report which summarizes their study findings to date, in hopes of encouraging maximum input from interested organizations, groups, and individuals. Those who wish to receive a copy of the report should contact the Corps District Office.

On May 21, Harrington sent a letter to Gateview homeowners asserting that the recall movement was an attempt to prevent him from investigating the administration of Council affairs. He outlined areas of fiscal irresponsibility in the current administration, and criticized the Board for spending large sums of money on legal fees in a suit against Interstate General Corporation, the developer of the Gateview complex.

On May 28, the other four members of the Board of Rooney's department is charged with the operation of the Center and he announced there is an additional $3,500 in funds to finish furnishing and decorating of the Center. Full operation is slated for next week, according to Betty Moyers, coordinator. —Luoma photo

Hearing on condo measure

ALBANY — The Albany Planning and Zoning Commission will hold a public hearing to consider a proposed condominium conversion ordinance on Tuesday at 8 p.m., in the Council Chambers, Albany City Hall. The ordinance addresses the conversion of rental apartments to individually owned dwelling units.

The purpose of the proposed ordinance is to promote the concept of home ownership affordable to all economic segments of the community while at the same time minimizing the impact of conversions on residents in the existing rental housing, especially elderly and handicapped tenants who may be forced to relocate. The ordinance also seeks to assure that prospective purchasers of converted housing have been properly informed as to the physical condition of the structure and common equipment which is offered for purchase.

Crowd attends dedication of Senior Center

ALBANY — Over 200 persons attended the dedication ceremonies of the newly expanded Albany Senior Center, 846 Masonic Ave., Sunday afternoon.

The $185,000 addition and remodeling was introduced to the senior citizens of Albany in elaborate rites that saw a host of speakers lauding the City and the Center for its expansion moves. With Jean Kramer, president of the Albany Senior Center Club, acting as mistress of ceremonies, Mayor Robert Luoma gave the opening speech and welcomed those attending the ceremonies. He also presented the two former directors, Stephanie Fallcreek and Beulah Bellings with resolutions from the City Council thanking them for their past services.

Need spare bedroom for kids

ALBANY — There still is a need for temporary homes for eight Scandinavian students in Albany or the surrounding area.

PJ Flowers, program coordinator for the Institute for Cultural Exchange, said the need "is desperate" as the 40 students and their leaders are to arrive in Albany on June 25, staying until July 17.

The Swedish and Finnish students will attend three hours of English and American Culture classes four days each week and take part in various excursions. All are able to communicate in English.

The students come with insurance, spending money and a desire to be treated as members of American families. Host families are interviewed and matched with students according to likes, dislikes and mutual interests. Single adults and adults without children are welcome to inquire as to the opportunity of hosting one or more of the group of foreign students according to Ms. Flowers.

Those interested in the project and willing to share their home with one of the students are urged to call Ms. Flowers as soon as possible at 524-8691.

Quilters showing

ALBANY — On Monday, June 25, at 7:30 p.m., East Bay Heritage Quilters will present a fashion show of contemporary clothing at the First Unitarian Church of Berkeley, No. 1 Lawson Road, Kensington. The event is free to members and visitors.

Gay Parker, show coordinator, has gathered the work of eight Bay Area artists which ranges from beautifully decorated jackets to hand painted silk scarves. Clothing by Margaret Zabo, Rebecca Newell, Carol Humphrey, Dorothy Blumst, Betty Van, Pam Quan, Peggy Torkington, Carol Rose and Ms. Parker will be modeled by EBHQ members. Some of the items will be available for purchase.

The fashion show is offered as the June meeting of East Bay Heritage Quilters, a group of over 350 members throughout the Bay Area interested in preserving the traditions of quilting and fostering interest in quilting as a means of personal expression and art. Membership is $12 per year ($6 for those 62 and older) and open to any interested persons.

ROTARY AWARD — J.J. Sturgeon, president of the Albany Rotary Club, presented Eddie Witherspoon, left, with the annual Rotary Club scholarship given to the incoming outstanding senior as selected by the Albany High School teaching staff. The scholarship is a five day stay at the Rotary Club's District 516 camp near Weaver-

After Robert Guletz, Director of Public Works, outlined the scope of the project, which include widening Pierce Street from Buchanan to the I-80 on and off ramps at the start of the 700 block of Pierce; installation of traffic signals at Pierce and Solano and installation of parking bays on Pierce, residents had a chance to say their piece at the public hearing. When Mayor Robert Luoma opened the hearing, it was a rush to see who would get to the podium first. J.J. Sturgeon, P.G. & E. official, said the company would advance some $350,000 to the undergirding project and estimated the cost to individual property owners at $150 as a minimum charge for undergirding from the property line to the service connections.

Harry Bergondy, 911 Pierce Street advised the Council to "knock this project on the head until the Hoffman Freeway is completed," and the City has a chance to see what the State Department of Transportation will do about on and off ramps at Buchanan. Jerry Talley then said the project was set up to pacify "Gateview... why penalize those who built and developed on Pierce Street. Don't change Pierce Street."

Because most homes have a sentimental attachment for their belongings, they tend to overprice them. They list it for sale and then, when they have done the landscaping, they add many of the items which they expect to sell. The seller tends to overprice the value of his property. Whereas a buyer will be objective and see the basics — the land, the building and the location.

When property goes to market at an overpriced price, it probably will not sell. Buyers are very wise and what similar properties are bringing. After property has been on the market for months, each new prospective buyer asks, "Is the price fair, it hasn't been sold."

Our knowledge of the market and of recent transactions permits us to give realistic ideas of what property is worth. It is something to "Talk It Over."

Editor: Dear Sir: The public will have an opportunity to see whose interests the Albany City Council really represents at a public hearing scheduled for the regular June 25 session at 8:00 P.M. At issue are citizen's appeals for two large condominium projects which will more than double the number of dwelling units on the eastern side of Albany Hill.

A serious traffic and safety problem already exists in the area because past Councils have allowed developers to put in inadequate streets. However, no new access is provided with these projects. Depending upon the intersection, the Environmental Impact Report shows 200 to 500% increases in traffic will result for residents of Cerrito, Jackson, Hillside, and Taft Streets.

These developments flagrantly violate the 40 foot guidelines which have been imposed on homeowners for Albany Hill construction. More than half the units in one project violate the guidelines with some units being 60 feet tall! Although this is a residential neighborhood primarily of single family homes, these buildings will be the second tallest structures in Albany surpassed only by the Gateway Towers.

The "pro-development at any cost" interests have certain allies in the city government. However, they can be stopped by a 3 to 2 vote of the City Council if enough Albany residents care enough to give one evening of their time to attend the June 25 hearing. The scandal and mistakes that took place with the Gateway development on the western side of Albany Hill should not be repeated on the eastern side.

Sincerely,
JAMES CLEVELAND

Editor: Dear Sir:

The mayor in Oakland hires an outside attorney to investigate a shooting by the police. That same mayor attempts to make massive cuts in the police department for economic reasons. He also creates a commission to study the feasibility of establishing a police review board.

That mayor seems hell bent on using the police as a whipping boy for every problem that arises.

Oakland needs a review board alright.

Composed of police officers to monitor the inmates of that funny farm known as city hall.

Chamber has chartered a bus to fair

ALBANY—Hal Denham, secretary-manager of the Albany Chamber of Commerce, announced yesterday there still are seats available for the special chartered bus next Wednesday to Albany Day at the Alameda County Fair.

The special $7 per person ticket not only entitles the holder to the bus ride to and from the Fairgrounds in Pleasanton, but also will be good for admittance to the racetrack grandstand.

The bus is to leave at 11:30 a.m. from the front of the Albany Cinema and will return in the evening at 7 p.m. to the same place. Denham asked that reservations be made as soon as possible.

Music classes to start at High School

ALBANY—A music summer school will be conducted by the Albany Schools in conjunction with the Albany Parks and Recreation Department for four weeks this summer, with classes beginning at Albany High School on Monday. Classes run from 9 to 12 a.m.

Designed for students in grades four through nine, the summer session will offer classes in orchestra, jazz band, concert band, and in beginning strings, brass, woodwinds and drums. Instructors will be Ernest Douglas and Bob Slous, both members of the Albany Schools' music staff. Classes are open to both Albany residents and to students from out of district.

Each class will cost $15, and students may register for one, two, or three classes.

Students who wish to enroll may do so by registering at the Albany Park and Recreation Department, 1000 San Pablo Avenue in Albany, or they may enroll at the Albany High School band room on the first day of classes.

Some instruments are available for loan to Albany residents at no cost. Others may take advantage of liberal rental programs available in local music stores.

Peralta to offer program

OAKLAND—A unique three college-in-one summer program will be offered by the Peralta Community College District, trustees decided yesterday.

Summer classes will be offered at the Laney College campus, and will include course offerings from that college and from College of Alameda and Merritt College.

The courses selected for the program are those which have repeatedly met the test of student interest, said Peralta Chancellor Max Tadlock, and many will be transferable to the University of California and to the California State University and College system. Anthropology, geology, trigonometry and introduction to data processing were among such courses cited by the staff.

The summer program, which is tuition-free, begins on June 25. A few courses will begin at 7 a.m., but most will be offered between the hours of 8 a.m. and 8 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday. They have been scheduled to enable students to enroll in more than one course.

Computer terminals will be used at the various colleges for early registration, and also will be open at Laney for late registrants on the first day of classes. Students can register and enroll for classes almost instantaneously.

Want to become grandparent by adoption?

ALBANY — The Block Coordinators of Albany are looking for "foster" grandparents.

According to Ivan Paulsen, Georgiann Cooper and Jutta Bray, many Senior Citizens of Albany have their children and grandchildren scattered all over the country and would like to have the companionship of the younger generation.

Albany residents who are interested in getting into the program are asked to contact the Block Coordinator office, Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The telephone number is 524-1167.

In the first of two Saturday games, the Luoma Photo Mats came up with five runs in the top of the seventh inning to win a tough game against the Another Termite Redlegs by a score of 6-4. In a second Saturday game, the Exchange Club Astros took the Foster Freeze Phils 9-4. Jeff Wong was the winning pitcher for the Astros. Key hitters for the Astros were Forrext Bretz, Mike Koepke and Jeff Wong.

Miles is scratch leader

By PHIL ALSTON

Weldon Miles topped a session of heavy scoring in the 535 Scratch Trios League at Albany Bowl with a four game set of 864, just one stick shy of Norm Curtis' high block for the summer.

Miles' games of 234-214-199-217 gave him a comfortable margin over John Taylor at 841 and Jim Joy 833.

Joy, a newcomer to the league, needed a couple of games to find himself, but finished well with counts of 254 and 229.

Other Trio leaders included Mike Long at 820, John Martin 815 and Rod Sparks, Leon Simon and Craig Lacy, all with 814.

In the Albany Travelers League, Al Gabriel broke out a 242 middle game for 615, and Jay Taylor followed the same pattern in the Gin Mill Fives with 225-604.

A big middle game was also the key to success for Will Warren in the Men's Jubilee where he followed a 203 opener with 246. Unfortunately, he misplaced his range finder for the third game, finishing with 136 for 585.

All City Moving retained its shaky hold on first place in the Jubilee Mixed with a 2-1 win over Master Blasters. Charley Washington's 569 series was the league's best.

Teresa Casillas enjoyed another good outing in the Plaza Specials circuit, shooting 204-552 to finish ahead of Leo Ewing at 540.

Larry Belote's 572 paced All Seasons Mixed, and Ricky Martin's 557 led the Junior Senior Trios.

Other leaders included Manny Salazar with 555 in Vacation Fours, Mike Snow 556 for Children's Hospital, Paul Finley 554 for Post Office and Oscar Matthews 550 in Thursday Sleepers. In the Volney Morrison Memorial Reno League, Chuck Swift topped "A" division with 554 while Jerry Morton hit 555 in "B".

Albany Bowl, Golden Gate and Lucky Lanes will revive the once-popular Tri City 15-gamer Sunday, July 1. Open to both men and women, squads will bowl five games in each establishment.

Payoff of prize fund will be on a one for six basis with the first three places, both handicap and scratch, guaranteed.

Athletes profiled by paper

ALBANY — The outstanding athletes of the class of '79 were profiled in the graduation issue of "The Informer," Albany High School's student newspaper.

Jeff Chamness, who batted a robust .400 for the Albany High Cougars this season, has been offered a tryout with the Cleveland Indians. The talented senior also has been contacted by scouts for the Atlanta Braves and the Baltimore Orioles. Jeff is deciding whether to play pro ball or attend Laney College next year.

Graduating senior Andre "Bo" Thomas won numerous awards on the basketball court during his tenure at AHS, including Flexco Prep of the Week, Athlete of the Week (four times) and a nomination for High School All-American. His most memorable sports experience was "winning the championship in hoops as a sophomore."

"Play what you like and that way you'll play hard," was the winning philosophy of Senior Michael Johnson, who played football, basketball and baseball at AHS. His awards include All-League in baseball (two years), Most Inspirational Player (football), and Most Valuable Back (football).

Kevin "Crazy" Delaney won his nickname for his intensity on the baseball field. The versatile Delaney won All-League recognition in both baseball and wrestling. He held a position on Albany High's championship wrestling team.

During her four years at Albany High, Liz Tellefsen reigned as one of the school's premier women athletes. She played a dominating center in basketball, received Most Valuable Player honors. Named Athlete of the Week twice, and earned All-League recognition in both basketball and tennis.

"I'm going to Cal Berkeley next year; I might play tennis for them," Liz said.

Cathy Mullarky devoted her after-school hours to softball and volleyball during her senior year. Cathy was named All-League in volleyball, a sport she has played since her freshman year at AHS.

Her philosophy: "I try to take everything in stride

Volunteers needed

ALBANY — New opportunities for seniors 60 and over have been announced and to give 100 percent," she said.

"You don't have to be a jock to play sports," noted June Dejong, who played tennis, basketball and softball during her years at AHS. June was Most Valuable Player in tennis, Most Inspirational Player in basketball, and she hit a healthy .364 in softball.

"Winning is like icing on the cake. Having fun — that's the most important thing," said June.

Winning came early to Varon Brown, standout on the Albany High women's track team. As a sophomore, she competed in the Meet of Champions at Cal Berkeley and almost made the State Meet. "It was pretty exciting," Brown recalled. "I had a number pinned on my back, and everything."

During her four years at AHS, Varon competed in softball and basketball, in addition to track. Her positive-minded philosophy: "Live today as if it were your last day."

by Miriam Hawthorne, Coordinator for Albany-Berkeley Retired Senior Volunteer Program. This nation-wide program RSVP, encourages seniors to take an active interest in the community by putting their skills and talents to use in worthwhile projects, even if only for one or two hours a week.

One of the most exciting new stations of RSVP, according to Ms. Hawthorne, is the Chapparral House in Berkeley, an intermediate health care facility. Volunteers are needed to work with the residents by reading or talking to them or running errands; someone is needed to assist in program activities, and on weekends, need is for someone to greet people.

The West Coast Children's Center and Clinic at the Epworth Methodist Church in Berkeley seeks a volunteer to help in the administration of the Center, including managerial duties.

United Nations Information Center at the Shattuck Co-op would like a volunteer for clerical and typing duties, also a person able to work closely with people. All volunteers are covered by accident insurance, lunch paid for working through the hour, and an allowance made for mileage when car is used. Persons able to give some time, no matter how little, are urged to call 841-8431, LaNelle Clark, Irene Stachura, field workers of the RSVP staff.

Albany Y offers a variety

ALBANY — Albany YMCA has activities for ages 3 to senior citizens this summer, according to Pam Hunt, Albany Y Director.

For children ages 3-5, there will be Kindercamp, a half-day program including games, stories, arts, crafts, songs and also a full day of Kindergym, the preschoolers gymnastics. Directed by Marla Weber, Kindercamp sessions begin June 18, 9:30 to 12 daily for five two-week sessions.

For children 5 to 10 years old, the YMCA Day Camp offers crafts, skits, circus arts, tumbling and gymnastics, swimming (at Albany Pool), bowling (at Albany Bowl), a weekly field trip, and outdoor sports and games. Periodic gym sleepovers will occur throughout the summer, with campers invited to spend the night in the Y gym, with movies and surprises for all. Director Peggy Donovan will be joined by twelve counselors with a variety of talents. Camp is held daily from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. with an after camp program for parents who need their children to be supervised after 3 p.m. Sessions begin June 18 and end August 31.

Preteens and children interested in tumbling and all-style gymnastics are eligible for the Albany YMCA gymnastics classes. For ages 5-15 years, tumbling, floor exercise, balance beam, uneven parallel bars, vaulting, and still rings are included in the five-week sessions. Three levels of skill: beginners, intermediate, and team enable gymnasts to be placed by age and ability. Session 1 begins June 18, and the fee for ten lessons is $15. Instructors have had extensive tumbling and competitive experience.

WORKING OUT — With a little extra help from Tim Seavy, Albany YMCA instructor, Leo Hirsch, right, a member of the Senior Class at the "Y" is shown with the barbells. The classes for Senior Citizens, at a charge of 50 cents per session soon to start, are held Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11 a.m. to 12 noon. Over 20 Seniors are enrolled in the classes.

Adults and teenagers may participate in a variety of physical programs, including the Fitness Classes, offered on Mondays and Wednesdays, morning or evening. Instructor Betsy Claassen includes dance movements, cardiovascular exercise, toning and stretching. The five-week sessions begin June 18 and the cost of YMCA members is $10 for 20 lessons.

Martial arts fans will enjoy either the YMCA Judo Program on Mondays and Wednesdays 7 to 9 p.m., or the Karate classes on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays 7:30 to 9 p.m. The Judo instructor, Mel Augustine, is a former world-class competitor and holds a sixth degree black belt. Karate teacher Hiroyuki Kishimoto is a former All-Japan Champion.

Recreation activities for adults include noon time volleyball, evening basketball games, and the weight room. The weight room has a 44-station Universal weight machine, barbells, speed bag and slant boards.

For senior citizens, the Albany "Y" will continue with its Senior Fitness Classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays 11-12 noon. Beginning June 18, the fee for each class is 50 cents, and instructor Ed Taafie promises continued work with stretching and flexibility, and a supervised period in the weight room. With enrollment of well over twenty seniors, the summer fitness program for seniors has proven to be popular among Albany oldsters.

For further information on summer activities for all ages, call or visit the Albany YMCA, 921 Kains Avenue, 525-4447.

Music classes start Monday at Albany hi

ALBANY — The Albany Schools' Music Department, in conjunction with the Albany Park and Recreation Department, will conduct an instrumental music program at Albany High School this summer.

The program begins on June 25 and runs through July 20. Classes are from 9 a.m. until 12 noon daily. A fee of $15 per class will be charged.

Students may register at the Albany Park and Recreation Department offices at 1000 San Pablo Avenue, Albany, or they may register on the first day of classes. Students from Berkeley, El Cerrito, and other surrounding districts are welcome to enroll.

Gas soon to be sold by litres?

OAKLAND — Motorists will soon be finding more and more service stations dispensing gasoline by the litre, reports Patrick E. Nichols, Alameda County Sealer of Weights and Measures.

Presently, most of the states 140,000 gasoline pumps cannot handle gasoline prices higher than 99.9 cents per gallon, he said, and there are really only two practical alternatives: install equipment capable of handling the prices over $1.00 per gallon, or convert to litre sales. Since the cost of converting the pumps to litres is the less expensive option, most station operators are expected to turn to the metric sales units.

Nichols, who is a member of the Governor's Metric Conversion Council, is pleased with the trend toward metric sales. The station owners' decision parallels the recommendation of the Council for the gasoline industry. Conversion, at this time, Nichols said, is "most appropriate."

OAKLAND — The Port of Oakland is sponsoring a colorful Old Fashioned Fourth of July Celebration at Jack London Square. The all-day program, which includes events ranging from music to sports, is free to the public, and is designed to appeal to the entire family.

A 77-year-old steam locomotive, known as the Daniel Best Steam Engine, will be one of the prize displays. The 16-ton engine, which rolled off of the assembly line in 1902, was acquired by the Oakland Museum several years ago, and has been restored to mint condition by the museum's craftsmen.

Highlights of the day's activities include an early morning runner's race along the harbor shoreline, an open-air performance by the Oakland Ballet Company, a pops concert by the Oakland Symphony, and a bluegrass concert by the country-western band, "Done Gone." Free narrated sightseeing boat tours of the Bay and Estuary will afford interested spectators close-up views of the large ships and cranes which abound in the Port of Oakland.

Printing areas covered will be silk screen, type setting, press work, marbling, ink painting and lithography. Photography will cover the areas of composition, camera work and darkroom work.

Related classroom instruction will be in math, job planning, reference material and reading science as it relates to printing and photography and the study of color and history.

Yes, "Cheap Trick at Budokan" is the exact same album that was previously available only as a Japanese import.

It was the only honorable thing to do.

Chuck Byars, 764 Pierce Street, took issue with the estimated costs. He said he would be out a minimum of $1,000 to hook up the underground utilities. He said he would have to go through concrete retaining walls and would encounter added expense he believed he should not have to bear to beautify the street.

Arthur Power, 810 Washington Street, said he advocated the installation of no parking signs on Pierce and that the signs would eliminate most of the problem of traffic congestion. Mr. Carden, 910 Pierce asked "why go ahead with the Pierce Street project in the first place? Let's wait until we have the solutions to the problems," and his sentiments were echoed by Fred Copeland, 912 Pierce Street. The only one in favor of the action was Sol Strand, a member of the Board of Directors of the ruling McKinley Towers Neighborhood Council of Gateview. He raised the question of traffic when the rest of the condominiums are constructed.

The ultimate was when it was revealed the use permit for Gateview contains a clause that the developer must pay for enlarging Pierce Street to Central Avenue in Richmond/El Cerrito to provide better access to Interstate 80 highway. That is when Morton Smith said that if "Gateview people want a change in Pierce Street, let them pay for it."

The Council authorized a letter to the California State Public Utility Commission on the application of the charges for directory assistance and filed the communication regarding the Diablo Canyon Nuclear plant of P.G.&E.

The Council passed, 5-0, Ordinance 79-05 adopting the Waterfront Plan of Procedures, Rules and Regulations for Leases after deleting the words "City Administrator" from the ordinance and inserting the City Council as the final authority and judgment on the working of the ordinance.

The Gates-McDonald service agreement was authorized giving the company an increase in their

Directors, Ingel Olafson, Don Scott, Sol Strand, Robert S. Wilson, responded with a statement which termed Harrington's charges as "distorted, malicious... propaganda." The statement suggested that "maneuvered 17 percent of the votes" to "place a pet" on the McKinley Board.

Regarding the lawsuit question, one filed by Homeowners against the Board and one filed by the Board against Homeowners and Burrows, the general contractors who were the Board members claimed that the Board "raced us to Court" to file a lawsuit against the contractor as we filed against them.

The four denied that there are excessive attorney fees in the suit against the contractor, asserting that the cost of approximately $10,000 was being paid in three installments, not going $3000 per month as quoted by Harrington.

On May 31, Harrington was elected to the Board in April, was elected by a vote of 21 to 1. According to Don Scott, Vice-President of the Board, it was felt by a majority of homeowners that his employment with Gateview Realty, an "employee" of the General Corporation, constituted a conflict of interest.

On June 4, Harrington leased a "Memorandum Record" which addressed the statement issued by the Board on May 28. In a tailored rebuttal to the Board's statement, Harrington denied that he was a puppet of IGC.

"employment" is that private contractor, engaged in real estate and rentals, strictly on commission basis. The reference that I am using position to undercut the best interests of the unit owners and that I received financial support from IGC is based on Harrington said.

Concerning the lawsuit in question, Harrington denied that IGC "raced us to court" to file a lawsuit against Williams and Burrows, the contractors of Gateview complex. IGC offered to enter into a suit with the Homeowners Council, Harrington said, but the Council rejected the offer.

On the question of legal fees, Harrington asserted that on-going services would range from $50,000, far more than the other Board members had estimated.

Harrington dismissed personal attacks against him as "rebuttal" to his communication in Board meetings, and re-emphasized that the four Board members were only using an "excuse" to engineer recall.

Harrington's letter June 8, challenging the identity of the recall, throws a new twist to ongoing and acrimonious battle that has divided McKinley Towers Neighborhood Council, not yet known, said Harrington, how the Board members will respond to his request that the election be declared void.

ference before the hearing. Judge Dawn Girard had accepted pleas of not guilty from two of the men and delayed arraignment for Brooks and the others because they had not retained counsel.

After Brooks was arrested, Hickman said, photographs of him were shown to Ms. Stender and to the other occupants of the house who saw the assailant, her son, Neal, and a houseguest, Priscilla Camp. All three identified Brooks based on that comparison, Hickman said. He added that none of the victims has seen Brooks in a police lineup.

Record budget for Viet vets

ALBANY — Special attention to the needs of Vietnam-era veterans is reflected in the Fiscal Year 1980 budget that President Carter submitted to the Congress last week.

VA Administrator Max Baucus said the new budget proposes legislation to provide psychological readjustment counseling for Vietnam-era veterans and their families and legislation to extend eligibility for educational benefits by two years for educationally disadvantaged Vietnam-era veterans.

The President's record also asks Congress to increase a 7.8% increase in compensation payments to service disabled veterans, seeks continued funding for high priority research into the causes of alcoholism and requests a $1.3 billion fund increase for full operation of new rehabilitation engineering research and development centers at Ames, Illinois, and Palo Alto.

The proposed compensation increase for disabled veterans, with an estimated 1980 cost of $498.4 million, would be effective October 1, 1979, just one year following a 7.3% increase made in 1978. VA compensation is paid to nearly 2.7 million service disabled veterans and survivors of deceased veterans.

Other new legislation proposed in the budget would improve VA vocational rehabilitation programs for service disabled veterans; increase the vocational rehabilitation student loan limit from $200 to $300 and authorize treatment of certain psychiatric, alcohol, and drug dependent programs in community programs on a contract basis.

The President is recommending to Congress a record $5.6 billion for VA medical care in 1980, a net increase of $186.8 million over the current year.

Administrator Cleland said VA employment in Fiscal Year 1980 will be 3,438 over its September 30, 1977 level.

Cleland said a law limiting government-wide employment to September 1977 levels permits the President to make adjustments within the executive branch as long as total government employment does not exceed statutory limits.

President Carter allocated VA personnel in excess of the Agency's 1977 level.

The new VA budget reflects a three year increase in VA medical jobs, non-medical employment will be down by 2,160 in the same time period. VA's work force of 225,236 in 1980 will be down from its 1978 level by 1,641, but still will be up from the 1977 mark.

VA is requesting $390.4 million for medical and cemetery construction in 1980, and, with carry-over from 1979, plans to obligate a record $585.3 million in that fiscal year.

Nearly $143 million is being sought for a replacement VA medical center in Baltimore, and a new medical center in Camden, New Jersey. Other major medical construction projects include one for $16 million in San Antonio.

Funds are provided in the budget for activation of replacement medical centers now being built at Augusta, Georgia, and Columbia, South Carolina, as well as increased utilization of new medical center now operating in Loma Linda, California.

A total of $21.4 million is included in the budget for improvement of outpatient clinics in five locations, and the budget calls for the activation of 388 additional home care beds.

A new VA national cemetery is scheduled to open in Westfield, Massachusetts, in 1980, and funds are requested to start development of a new cemetery in the southeastern United States, and another in the central section of the country. Also scheduled are expansion of the cemeteries at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, and the development of 45 additional acres for internments at the Riverside, California cemetery.

Some of the other features in the budget sent to Congress include:

—an added $476.3 million to pay increased non-service-connected pension rates, effective this month, to 2.3 million disabled veterans and survivors of deceased veterans.

—continued funding for an automated "Target" system which will be installed in 56 VA facilities in 1979, and will speed greatly the processing of compensation, pension, and education benefits.

—an added $20.5 million to pay for increased burial allowances.

—an added $4.7 million to pay for increases in housing and automobile grants for severely disabled veterans.

Cleland said the greatest dollar growth among veterans programs in the new budget is for income security for veterans. He noted payments to disabled veterans in the form of compensation, pension and insurance will total $12.25 billion. These direct payments will be $1 billion more than those made in the current Fiscal Year.

Albany is enriched by $32,498

ALBANY — Albany's coffers are $32,498 fatter today as a result of the May apportionment of State collected fees for motor vehicles, highway tax and cigarette tax.

The largest windfall is the "in lieu" taxes collected by California's controller, Kenneth Cory and his office. The amount remitted to Albany totaled $18,855, while Alameda County was given $1,062,971.

The money collected is the State excise tax of $2 per $100 of market value that takes the place of the local property tax on motor vehicles. The distribution goes to the cities and counties on a population basis and the money can be used for general purposes.

The taxes on motor fuels amounted to $10,280 for Albany and $573,648 to Alameda County. The money was broken down as follows: gasoline tax, diesel fuel tax and miscellaneous fuels.

The least amount came from the cigarette tax. The sums were $3,363 for Albany and $37,674 for Alameda County. The distribution represents 30 percent of the revenue deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund during the month of April, less administrative costs of $30,522 statewide.

SkyLab efforts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration says it will try to change Skylab's position Wednesday in hopes of making it able to receive commands longer.

Funds are provided in the budget for activation of replacement medical centers now being built at Augusta, Georgia, and Columbia, South Carolina, as well as increased utilization of new medical center now operating in Loma Linda, California.

A total of $21.4 million is included in the budget for improvement of outpatient clinics in five locations, and the budget calls for the activation of 388 additional home care beds.

Deer tag apps are accepted

ALBANY — Seven weeks before the opening of the first 1979 deer hunting season, the state Department of Fish and Game is gearing up for an expected rush for licenses, tag applications and tags by California's 300,000-plus deer hunters.

Mammal hunting and furber trapping regulations booklets — including rules for deer — are now available at Fish and Game offices and from license agents in Albany.

Included in the 56-page booklet of regulations are descriptions and maps of deer hunting zones and special deer hunt areas and application instructions.

License agents and DFG offices soon will begin selling tag applications which, again this year, must be mailed to Sacramento headquarters. Tags will be returned by mail. Supplies of tags and applications were expected to reach license agents by month's end.

Large, detailed statewide maps of deer hunting zones, which were available to individual hunters last year, are not being issued this year. Instead, colored maps will be posted wherever licenses are sold, at Fish and Game offices and sporting goods stores.

As was the case last year, hunters must mail tag applications in time to be received at DFG headquarters at least 15 days before the date on which they wish to receive their tags.

For the first season — archery on the central coast (zones A1 and A2 beginning July 14 — tag applications should be received before the end of June.

To apply for a hunt for which there is a drawing — antlerless or either-sex, special buck hunt, muzzle-loading rifle, or what have you — hunters are advised to mail applications in time for them to be received at DFG headquarters by 5 p.m. July 2.

The DFG said no deer tag will be issued to a person whose application is received less than 10 days before the end of the season for the zone applied.

Effective now, hunting licenses, tag applications and tags will be available in Room 115 on the first floor of the Resources Building, 1416 Ninth Street, Sacramento.

DFG license chief Mac Foster said that the one-stop center for deer hunters should be much more convenient than the 12-floor office where tags were issued last year. Specialists will be available to answer questions and otherwise assist hunters, Foster said.

For the first time, regulations booklets this year include information on herd trends and hunter success in each of the zones.

Anti-nuclear movement is going ahead

SAN FRANCISCO — The anti-nuclear power movement is gaining strength in the world.

Hundreds of thousands of people have rallied in European cities to fight the construction of deadly nuclear power plants. The Nuclear Regulatory Commission in the U.S. recently shut down five nuclear plants for being environmentally unsafe.

Diablo Canyon, near San Luis Obispo, is the location for a nuclear power plant readying for operation. Protests over the past two years have attempted to block its construction, and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission is presently close to deciding whether to allow Diablo Canyon to begin operations.

A rally and alternative energy fair will be held in conjunction with the Diablo Canyon decision, at the San Francisco Civic Center, April 7 from noon to 5 p.m. The Abalone Alliance, a grassroots anti-nuclear organization in San Luis Obispo, is sponsoring the fair with Citizens for a Better Environment.

Ralph Nader is the featured speaker, and he will be joined by Carol Ruth Silver, Harry Britt, Dennis Banks, and speakers from labor, the National Organization for Women, and elsewhere. Music will be played by Bonnie Raitt, Danny O'Keefe, John Hall, and others, with comedy performed by Wavy Gravy, the Plutonium Players and David Bernstein's Cuffley Hill.

Hello for another week!
It's not too early to book your Christmas space in Hawaii or Mexico now, believe it or not. We tried to book a group into Club Mediterranean Cancun and found it sold out from San Francisco/Oakland until January, 1980 (for groups). A friend is flying from Oakland to Manzanillo and then to Club Med Playa Blanca for this Christmas — says she loves the sight of Santa Claus coming into shore on a sailboat with his bag of presents.

The cruise lines are beginning their Alaska sailings this month and will be weekly in and out of San Francisco. Call us if you'd like a pass for visiting the Island Princess, Royal Viking or Sitar Fairsea ships. My husband and I are trying to plan our own vacation and simply don't know where to go — this business is like working in a candy store — everyone's trip looks good to us.

All the talk these days is about the discount coupons. For once we are pleased with the airlines and looking forward to this promotion. The three airlines will be paying travel agents full coach fare commission on the half fare tickets and there are no time restrictions, purchasing restrictions and so on. The only problem will be getting the airline on the telephone. American Airlines has been a special favorite with us for their quick telephone response, courteous reservation people. They will make seat assignment for special fare passengers and if you've travelled with small children you know how nice it is to get the front bulkhead seat by the window. We found Northwest Orient the most impossible airline to get on the phone. Once after waiting 45 minutes we were in the middle of a booking when the reservation agent said, "Sorry, your time is up, we can only spend 15 minutes with each agent." We are used to getting several different fare quotes from the same airline, but recently we check it three times with different people if it looks questionable. By next January the airlines promise to give us a system for quoting fares. We still have King tickets in July for sign ups! Call us with travel questions. As Sylvia, Patricia, Carol, and THE AVENUE TRAVEL (Corner of York Ave.)
